PIANOS.
GAINED FIRST PREMIUM FOR GREATEST merit at the New Orleans Cotton Centennial and WORLE'S Exposition for refined and wonderful power of tone, elegance of design, and superb finish. Only piano endorsed by United States commissioners, from each of the States. Cases finest carved, rosewood finish—finest imported double repeating action—three strings throughout of best patent steel wire—keys best ivory. Our new patent steel tuning device, instead of wood, is the greatest invention ever made in pianos. It consists of stationary STEEL tuning pins that are set in a mold and molten STEEL is run round the pins keeping them solidly in place. A thimble or shell pin is made to exactly fit the stationary pin revolving therein; thus the strings wind round the pins. After the strings are properly stretched the piano can never get out of tune, the rest plank being of STEEL not affected by extremes of climate. This will be appreciated by all musicians in city or country. It will stand twenty years without tuning and is good for 100. No other piano has this improvement.
Great strength and durability is another advantage. In other pianos holes are bored in wooden boards and tuning pins inserted. The pins turn round in this board and cannot stand permanently in tune, and it often cracks, splits, dries out, becoming utterly, totally and entirely worthless as a musical instrument. Our STEEL tuning device is in no way affected by such casualities, and the sounding board is so constructed that our pianos can never become thin or metallic in tone. They are always in tune and the expense of tunning is saved. This patent alone is worth millions and makes our piano the greatest in the world. Prices are no higher than other pianos. Buying direct from us, the largest manufacturers, you save $100 or $200—dealers' profits. Don't mind the ominous growlings of dealers and agents, who see their chances of selling a poor piano at a big profit of $200—slipping away—pity them.
We guarantee our pianos ten years. 200 styles. We have put our prices at lowest bed-rock for Cash.
A $600 Piano for $259.50; a $900 Piano for $297 50; a $1200 Piano for $375.50; a $1500 Piano for $475.50.
Upright Cabinet Grands, with stool and rubber cover shipped on board cars at S. F., to any part of the United States, Canada or Mexico. Our terms are cash with order. If not as represented money returned. We occasionally have good second-hand pianos, made over at $100 to $300, which we take in part payment for our own. Write or call for catalogue, free.

FOR THE REST OF HER SOUL.

For the rest of her soul—pray! pray!
Who she was we know not;
The broken gravestones show not
Whence she came or whither wended.
Lived she much ere life was ended,
Was her portion joy or dole,
Went she well beloved or lonely,
The stones tell naught of these—but only
Pray! pray!
For the rest of her soul!

Lived she her brief day here;
Night came, and she lay here.
Was she great or only human—
Happy saint or suffering woman?
Naught know we, yet know the whole!
Living, loving, sorrowing, dying—
At the last forgotten lying—
Pray! pray!
For the rest of her soul!
—Grace Ellery Channing in Kate Field's Washington.

Mrs. Potter-Palmer.

With such a blessed trinity of gifts as beauty, affability and intelligence, Mrs. Potter-Palmer, president of the World's Fair women managers, will reflect credit on her sex and cause men to wonder why such as she are not oftener consulted in national affairs. Government is the science of housekeeping on a large scale. That is the reason why men so frequently fail in details to which they seem superior, yet it is upon details that life and success depend.
Take government buildings, for example. Were clever women consulted I think our architecture would be finer, and I know that interiors would be better planned. So long as masculine intellect refuses to corral feminine acumen, closets will remain a burning question, and their absence continue to be a thorn in the flesh. I have in mind a costly building lately erected with scarcely a closet in it, which owes the introduction of stationary wardrobes to a woman's criticism.
It is to be hoped that Mrs. Potter-Palmer can find among her own sex an architect able to design the woman's pavilion at the fair. If she succeeds, let it not be said by experts that man would have done better. May beauty wait on utility and convenience on both.—Kate Field's Washington.

Equal Pay for Women.

In a recent interview reported in The New York Mail and Express Mr. G. W. Childs said:
Women are advancing rapidly, and I am glad to see it. They should have an equal chance with men. The other day I employed a chemist—a woman—and I pay her $1,500 a year, the same price I should pay a man. I make no difference in the salaries paid on my paper. I employ many women writers, and they do just as good work and receive just as good pay as the men. My writers have instructions never to write alleged humor about the mother-in-law, or any joke at the expense of woman. If you will notice you will not find the facetious flings at the opposite sex which characterize the so called humorous paragraphs in many papers. It is not right to poke fun at women; they deserve and should have our deepest admiration and respect. I always tell the women writers on my paper to stand up for their sex. It is almost impossible to predict the future chances of success for women. Many of them now are earning salaries equal to their male brethren. The professions are open to women, and they are advancing all along the line. They should be encouraged as much as possible.

Took a Servant's Place.

Charles Richards and Miss Maggie Owen, both well known in society circles in Indianapolis, were married recently after an exceedingly novel courtship of several months. Richards began his attention to the young lady six months ago, but her family conceived a strong dislike to him and forbade him the house. Miss Maggie determined to leave home, and sought and succeeded in getting a situation as a domestic in a family in a different part of the city.
They soon learned her secret, but kept faith with her, and for four months Richards and the young lady kept their courtship, the Owen family trying in vain to find the place of their daughter's hiding. In the mean time Richards bought a home, furnished it thoroughly, and took his bride to it, where a number of friends, including the parents of the bride, were gathered to offer congratulations.—Cor. Chicago Herald.

Last of an Honored Family.

Miss Elizabeth Cazneau Palfrey died in Milton, Mass., the home of her nephew, Robert B. Palfrey, on Christmas morning. Miss Palfrey was a descendant of Peter Palfrey, one of the original five men to whom the preservation of Massachusetts bay colony is due. Her grandfather, William Palfrey, was paymaster general of the Revolutionary forces, aid-de-camp on Washington's personal household staff and the first United States consul general to France. Miss Palfrey was also of Huguenot descent, her mother being a granddaughter of Paix Cazneau and Marguerette Germain Cazneau, who fled to this country with other Huguenots in 1671. She was the last of her generation, having survived her brothers and sisters and cousins, of whom the late Dr. Cazneau Palfrey, of Cambridge, Mass., was the youngest. Miss Palfrey was 87 years old.—Boston Journal.

Flossie Plays the Trombone.

There will be organized in Gardiner a young ladies' orchestra. The new organization will start off with twelve musicians, the names of whom, with the instruments they will manipulate, are given here: Violins, Gertie Morgan, Flossie Holmes, Mertitia Moore, Jennie Patterson; slide trombone, Flossie Boyntons piccolo, Lizzie Anne; cornet, Alice Burnham; double bass, Eva Andrews; drum, Emma Moore; flute, Aldine Holmes; piano, Wealthy Hughes. Miss Evie Cusick will also be a member of the orchestra, but has not as yet been assigned to any instrument.—Kennebec Journal.

This season's productions in silver, whether for table or personal use, emphasize the present tendency to bright finish with rich chased decorations, the latter being frequently applied in the form of a border round a bright center.

Demands for Paratoloid.

One of the curiosities to arrive at the postoffice was a letter addressed to "Dr. Koch, Esq., New Haven, Conn." It was postmarked from a town in western New York. The postoffice officials were not long in reaching a logical deduction that it was intended for Dr. Foster, and it was so delivered. This reasoning proved correct, for it was written by some one desiring most earnestly the lymph treatment. Dr. Foster said that he was heartily glad the lymph reached New York and Washington, because it might have the effect of lessening the increasing stream of applicants and applications that have been pouring in on him.
This demand has grown daily since the second arrival of the lymph at an alarming rate. Letters come from all parts of the Union—California, Indiana, North Carolina, Vermont and even Colorado—written by those willing to do anything in the hope of obtaining even some slight relief from dreaded diseases. They have the hope that perhaps they individually will be chosen from the others. No matter what the distance is, they are willing to come on to make the experiment. Many have the idea that, like vaccination, one inoculation is sufficient, without realizing the long course of treatment which is necessary.
But one and all have to be refused, as further experiments at present are impossible. Dr. Foster is nearly worn out in the vain attempt to answer a part of his correspondence, which occupies nearly all his time.—New Haven Courier.

The Young Man Failed to Suit.

A lady a few days ago arrived on the Comstock in response to a matrimonial advertisement published in a temporary local newspaper, her expenses being paid by the advertiser, a young man of this town. She is still here, but the young man is disconsolate, as she is not pleased with his appearance, and refuses to perform her part of the contract. He is at a loss to account for his inability to please the feminine eye. He has good habits and is steadily employed.
It seems that this is only the last of several ventures of the would-be groom toward connubial happiness. In one of his former trials he forwarded $30 to his fair correspondent, who returned him $20 and a letter containing a great deal of good advice, for which she kept as a fee the remaining $10. She concluded the epistle by informing him that she was about to start for Portland to join her husband. He is not at all discouraged by his good or ill fortune, as the case may be, and intends to keep trying until he is successful.—Virginia City (Nev.) Enterprise.

Great Churchmen Dead.

The year which has just closed will be memorable in the annals of the Church of Rome for the loss of Newman and Von Dollinger; in those of the Church of England for the loss of Lightfoot, Liddon, Hatch, Littledale, Oakley, Henry White, Canon Cure and of the dean of St. Paul's. The deanery of St. Paul's has been held by many greater men than Dr. Church, but never by one of more stainless and beautiful life, riper culture, more untiring devotion, completer self forgetfulness. The story of his life would be little more, however, than the story of his friendships with most of the brightest and most fruitful minds of his generation.
He was a severe judge of himself, and shrank from anything like "leadership," even from that of the London head. His affection for Newman was unbounded and reciprocal. It was in the quaint old house under St. Paul's that Newman played on his favorite 'cello for the last time and put it away forever. He presented it to the daughter of his host at the time.—London World.

Deer Hunting.

David Hoover, of this place, came in from the hills Saturday with a fine doe which he had the good fortune to run to water. When the snow is deep a deer pursued by dogs will invariably make for the water. Wading in where it is the deepest, the trembling animal will stand and wait for its canine enemies. It is cute enough to know that it has the advantage of the dogs while in the water.
The dog having short legs must swim, and the deer by striking with its feet can defend itself much better than on land. The hunters, knowing this peculiarity, station themselves near the water, and the terrified deer, thinking only of the dogs, become an easy prey. Last week some hunters from Du Bois shot five deer in this way, and the fact that every one of them was hit between the eyes shows that the hunters were in easy range and had things very much their own way.—Punxsutawney (Pa.) Spirit.

Charles Marvin's Death.

So Mr. Charles Marvin is dead! Every one remembers him as the much berated hero of the Salisbury-Schouvaloff-Globe comedy in 1878. It was said that he managed to "convey" the document in his memory; but, however that may be, its untoward disclosure, which led to the utterance of a celebrated "salisbury" at St. Stephen's, was swiftly followed by Mr. Marvin's retirement from the foreign office. Mr. Marvin passed his early years in the dominions of the czar, and entered the English civil service three years before his leap into notoriety. Since then Mr. Marvin has busied himself with authorship.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Block Island's Turkey Glory Gone.

Block Island no longer supplies the markets with its old time quantity of famous turkeys. Ten years ago the Christmas shipment amounted to eighteen tons, but last year only three tons were sent out. The people of the island are depending more on the attractiveness of the place for summer visitors, and paying less attention to poultry raising and vegetable growing.—Boston Herald.

Bossy Climbed a Tree.

Ben Stanfield and others, while engaged in working in a large sycamore tree on the farm of W. H. McDonald, were astonished to find a calf in the hollow of the tree, thirty-five feet above the butt. The calf was alive and all right.—Seymour Cor. Indianapolis Sentinel.

What Koch's Discovery Leads To.

It can safely be assumed that every statement made by Koch himself is true and accurate. He has gone no further than is justified by the actual scientific facts. With this assumption, no one can doubt that Koch has made one of the most important discoveries in the history of medicine. If it be true that "phthisis in the beginning can be cured with certainty," it is possible, if not probable, that consumption may be cured in the later stages by supplementing the injections by general hygienic measures of treatment, antiseptic inhalations and so on, which have already been found useful.
The direct value of the discovery of a means of curing a disease which is responsible for one tenth of the deaths from all causes, including violence, is indeed great; but the imagination almost fails to grasp the importance of the method extended to other diseases produced by micro-organisms. If we know the exact mechanism of the cure for consumption, it is certain that we shall soon be able to successfully apply this knowledge to the study of other diseases.
It is possible, in the light of what has recently been accomplished by Koch, that in the near future many curative lymphs will be discovered, each produced by the special micro-organism of each disease. It would then be not too much to expect that these agents would promptly arrest the different diseases to which they are applicable. For example: The typhoid lymph, the diphtheric lymph, the lymph for measles, scarlet fever, etc., would promptly arrest these diseases and save patients from the degenerations and the accidents which are liable to occur when these diseases are allowed to run their course, and that convalescence will be prompt because the diseases have not produced damage which can only be repaired by time. Truly this would be a revolution in medicine, and it now seems to be impending.—Dr. Austin Flint in Forum.

The Lazy Man Has Been Found.

A frisky little dog that lives in a comfortable home in Ninety-fifth street, west of Ninth avenue, has a master with a resourceful mind. The fact that the aforesaid master, when not too busy arranging investments for his surplus cash, does a little newspaper work, perhaps accounts for the resourceful mind. Late Friday forenoon this gentleman opened the front door of his residence prepared for his customary saunter to the elevated station. A snowdrift from two to three feet deep completely covered his doorstep. His wife at his elbow suggested that he go down stairs and get the snow shovel, but he treated the suggestion as a playful jest.
After contemplating the snowbank a few seconds he whistled for his dog. An animated bundle of hair came tumbling into the hallway. "Oolah!" spoke the master, "do you want to go for a walk?" With a quick bark of delight the little dog plunged out of the door and rolled down the steps to the sidewalk. Then, after a good deal of kicking and rolling about, the animal regained his feet, and obeying his master's call scrambled up the steps and back into the house. Again he was sent out and called back with the same snow scattering result, and as he seemed to enjoy it, the act was repeated for even a third time. Thus was an open path down the steps made for the man with the resourceful mind. Oolah's "walk" was postponed until a pleasanter day.—New York Times.

Lay in Your Calendars.

This is the time to lay in a stock of calendars. The railroad companies vie with the insurance companies in getting out handsome calendars. The drug manufacturers' monopoly of the almanac business is only disputed by a few newspaper publishers.
"We are overrun with applicants for calendars," said a veracious insurance agent yesterday, "and if we had 2,000,000 calendars we would give them all away inside of two weeks. Women are the most persistent applicants, and if we refuse their requests they'll return the next day and ask for blotters. Some applicants are very nervy, and will 'ask for one of each kind,' and if we give the applicant a handsome souvenir ten to one he or she will ask for another for her pa or ma or big brother. They come in droves at all hours, and we encounter quite a number who boldly announce themselves as 'collectors of calendars.' The calendar business at this time of the year is a decided nuisance. It is a poor advertisement, too."—Buffalo Express.

Young Men in the Senate.

Henry Clay enjoyed among various distinctions that of being the youngest man ever elected to the United States senate. He had not reached the constitutional limit of age—30 years—when elected, but had just passed it when he took his seat. Franklin Pierce was only 32 when he was elected. Mr. Irby, the senator-elect from South Carolina, will be the youngest member of the next senate, as Senator Morrill will be the oldest.
Senator Dubois, of Idaho, is, however, not yet 40, and other senators 50 years of age and under are: Wolcott, 42; Gray, 50; Higgins, 50; Spooner, 47; Aldrich, 49; Pettigrew, 42; Daniel, 48; Allen, 45; Faulkner, 43, and Keana, 42. The average age of the senators will be considerably lower in the next congress than it has been for several years.—Buffalo Commercial.

A Bridegroom's Hard Luck.

There was a wedding at Westport yesterday, and the wedded couple started in one of Perry's landaus to take the 5:45 train from New Bedford. When near Bliss' corner one of the horses was affected with paralysis, and a message was sent to the stable for a relay. On the arrival of a fresh horse the disabled animal was left by the roadside and the journey was resumed. In order to accommodate the party the train was held for a few minutes and when the bridegroom alighted, in his agitation, he put his elbow through one of the plate glass windows of the carriage.—Fall River Globe.

THE rapid increase in the membership of the Farmers Alliance in the State of Maryland is said to be disturbing the leaders of the old parties. The same may be truthfully said of the organization in a number of other States. If the old parties want to stop this, let them reconigze the wishes of the farmers in the framing of legislation; they are certainly numerous enough to have a right to be heard in our legislative halls.

THE idea of electing United States Senators by direct vote of the people is growing more popular all the time. The Indiana legislature has adopted a resolution indorsing the change, and it's only a question of time when the pressure in favor of it will compel Congress to adopt a constitutional amendment providing therefor.

CONGRESS is again giving the country an exhibition of partisan politics, of which the people are getting mighty tired. There will come a time when Congress will "catch on" to the ideas of the people on this subject, and it cannot come too soon.

IT will be gratifying to stock raisers to learn that France will shortly rescind its decree against the importation of American pork. If all of our two footed hogs could only be sent to France how happy we should be, but it would be mighty rough on France.

The Gopher Beaten.

J. P. Stanley has just completed a gopher fence around his place in this city. Mr. Stanley has had a good deal of experience in gardening and fruit raising and has had to contend with the usual pests. The gopher is one of the most persistant foes he has had to deal with, but he has finally beaten him. To keep him out he has a close fence and then digs down nearly two feet in front of the fence and along side of it, and places a wide board on edge. The gopher, he says, cannot work his way through a board thicker than a shingle and, he says, he never goes more than two feet under the surface when he tunnels into a field. He has tried the gopher fence and found it to be a complete success.

Referring to the statement made by Jonathan Roberts a few days ago in regard to the damage done by the gopher in girdling trees, Mr. Stanley says that, when trees are set out if the earth around the roots and around the collar of the tree be liberally sprinkled with broken glass, pieces of old bottles etc., that Mr. Gopher will avoid the tree altogether. He has tried the plan thoroughly and recommends it to the fruit growers of the county.—Republican.

Scrofula all his Life.

I consider my cure by S. S. S. one of the most wonderful on record. I had the worst type of Scrofula from my infancy until I was 22 years of age. My whole young life was embittered and made miserable by the loathsome disease. I not only suffered from the Scrofula, but was so marked that I was ashamed to associate with, and was avoided by, my playmates and fellow workmen. I tried every known patent medicine, and was first and last attended by more than a dozen reputable physicians, but in spite of all, the disease continued to grow worse. About four years ago a friend from Pittsburg advised me to take S. S. S., which I did, and after taking seven bottles I was cured sound and well. The old skin peeled off and was replaced by a new skin, as smooth and free from blemish as any person's. I have had no return or symptom of the disease.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my Lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up saying I could not live but a short time. I gave myself up to the Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me and thank God I am now a well and healthy women." JOHN MULLEN.

On the evening of Wednesday, January 21st, there passed over to the side of the great majority, at his home, on his ranch near Vallejo, Mr. John Mullen, who will be remembered by many INDEX-TRIBUNE readers as being connected with the construction of the Santa Rosa and Carquinez railroad through this valley a few years ago.

He was born at Flagmount, North Liberties of Limerick, Ireland, in 1831. He came of excellent stock. In early youth Mr. Mullen crossed the trackless waters of the broad Atlantic to this great Republic, where he followed the railroad business for more than forty years in different States of the Union. He was well-known in railroad circles from Siskiyou to San Diego and in his business had few equals and no superiors. For twenty years he filled faithfully and well the responsible and trying position of Roadmaster for the Southern Pacific Company on their lines between Vallejo, Benicia and Sacramento.

Two years ago his constitution, never of a very robust character, and also his eye-sight, began to weaken, thereby compelling his retirement from his chosen calling.

Mr. Mullen was a high-hearted gentleman of superior intelligence and the very soul of integrity in his transactions with his fellow men. He leaves a rich legacy to his wife and six children in the honored name that will be cherished, and memories of a long and useful career that will be recalled as long as the last of those among whom he spent his life shall survive. His remains were buried from the Catholic Church in Vallejo on January 24th. Molliter ossa quiescant et requiescat in pace. M. F. M.

If You Had a Friend

About to visit some section of country where malarial disease, either in the form of chills and fevers or bilious remittent was particularly rife, what would be about the best advice you could give him? We will tell you—to carry along, or procure on arriving, that potent medicinal safeguard, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, known throughout malaria plagued regions, here and in other countries, as the surest means of disarming the miasmatic scourge, and robbing it of its fell destructive influence. Not only does it fortify the system by increasing its stamina, but overcomes irregularity of digestion, the liver and the bowels, and counteracts the unfavorable effects of over-exertion, bodily and mental exposure in rough weather, or occupation too sedentary or laborious, loss of appetite and excessive nervousness. The functions of alimentation, bilious secretion and sleep have in it a most powerful and reliable auxiliary.

HI LO.

To Be tried for the Murder of Patrick Next March.

Deputy Sheriff Sparks has subponed a large number of witnesses in the murder case of the People vs. Hi Lo, the Chinese washman who shot and killed Marian Patrick in this place several months ago. The trial of defendant has been set by Judge Dougherty for Tuesday, March 3d. Last Monday Hi Lo was arraigned before the Superior Court and he entered a plea of not guilty. He will be defended by Attorney A. B. Ware of Santa Rosa and District Attorney Burnett will prosecute.

The Firemen.

The Sonoma fire laddies turned out for their regular monthly practice last Wednesday evening. The fire hydrants and apparatus worked to perfection. The firemen of Sonoma have become very proficient in handling the various apparatus of the department and the people of Sonoma have every reason to feel proud of their firemen. Next month, should the City Trustees donate the small sum of $100, the firemen will be uniformed at an expense of $300. These uniforms will be the property of the city, although the firemen will have to put up two-thirds the cost of the same. A more liberal, brave, self-sacrificing set of men were never banded together to protect a community against the fire fiend than the volunteer firemen of Sonoma. A committeeman from the volunteers will wait upon the City Trustees next Wednesday evening to again urge upon that body the donation of the amount mentioned above. We take it if the firemen are willing to give the city $200, the city surely will not reject their offer when only $100 stands in the way of its securing $300 worth of property for one-third its cost.

Bound for a Foreign Shore.

Miss Florence Campbell, daughter of R. F. Campbell of this place, a recent graduate of the Sonoma Public School and latterly a student at Santa Rosa Normal School, from which institution she is also a graduate, sailed for Honolulu in the steamer Australia last Tuesday. Miss Campbell has been engaged as a teacher in the Mahauwao Seminary on the Island of Maui, an educational institution for native girls. The young lady goes entirely unaccompanied on her long journey. Miss Campbell was born and raised in Sonoma and is still in her teens and has never been far away from her home. In accepting a position as school teacher in a strange land among a strange people the young lady has exhibited a surprising amount of pluck, worthy of the emulation of other young lady teachers. Miss Campbell's Sonoma friends who are legion, wish her bon voyage and success in her chosen field of labor.

A Fool's Story.

That stale old story of the workshops of the Southern Pacific Company being transferred from Sacramento to Boomtown is again being whispered in the ear of the unsuspecting in the hopes of selling a few more lots in the dead town. The whole thing is all guff. It is just as reasonable to suppose that the capital of the State is to be set up there. When the boomers build that $20,000 cannery and the $200,000 hotel on something else besides paper then it will be in order to move the business of the Southern Pacific Company to the dreary town.

County Fund Apportionment.

Gil Hall, Auditor and Recorder, has made the following apportionment of the moneys in the unapportioned fund: Amount in the unapportioned fund, Dec. 31, $341,802.27; apportioned to State fund, $161,604.22; indigent fund, $14,163.94; bond fund, $34,160.68; school fund appointionment, $31,160,68; road fund apportionment, $39,056.06; general fund, $62,341.45; rebate fund, $1,123.27; salary fund, $1,251.91.

Wind Storm.

A furious wind storm struck this valley about 9 o'clock last Wednesday evening and continued throughout the night. Fences and trees were blown down, but the damage was slight. Singular to relate the storm could be heard raging with great fury in the mountains a mile or two from town fully an hour before making its appearance in the valley, by which time it had spent considerable of its force.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to clense the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

MRS. M. G. VALLEJO DEAD.

The Aged Wife of the Late General Passes Peacefully Away.

Surrounded By Her Children and Grandchildren

The Old Lady Passes to that Bourne from which No Traveler Ever Returns.

Ever since the death of General Vallejo, which occurred just one year ago this month, his aged widow has been hovering between life and death, and the announcement of her demise at 6 o'clock yesterday morning was not unexpected. She had been suffering from a complication of diseases for the past year, but the immediate cause of her death was acute bronchitis.

Anticipating her death her sons, daughters and grandchildren had been summoned to her bedside and in their presence she peacefully passed away.

Mrs. Benicia F. Vallejo belonged to one of the most aristocratic Spanish families of Southern California—the Carillos. On the 6th of March, 1832, she married General Vallejo and in 1835 with her husband came to this valley, where she has resided ever since.

The deceased lady had reached the advanced age of 74 years. She came to Sonoma, which had been founded by her late husband, fifty-six years ago, a bright, joyous bride of nineteen. The wealth of the young married couple was princely. The General built a magnificent castle a few hundred yards north of the Plaza, which was subsequently destroyed by fire, where the young folks dispensed hospitality with a lavish hand. But years went on a pace and gradually the wealth of the Vallejo's slipped through their hands, owing to their extreme liberality and for a number of years preceding his death General Vallejo was known to be in reduced circumstances. His home place was mortgaged for almost its full value and his lands and herds had disappeared years ago, and when he passed away one year ago his only heritance to his aged wife and children was an honored name.

A bill had been introduced in the present Legislature by Senator Ragsdale of this county to pension Mrs. Vallejo which would have become a law had she lived. But now that the old lady is dead we trust that the Legislature will appropriate a sufficient sum of money toward erecting a tomb and monument to the memory of the venerable coupie. Surely this will not be denied by a State which owes General Vallejo a debt of gratitude for valuable services rendered in its early history.

The funeral of Mrs. Vallejo will take place to morrow (Sunday) from St. Francis' Church at 10:30 A. M.

COUNTY SCHOOL FUND.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years, ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says:

Toledo, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen; I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take according to directions.

Yours truly,
L. L. GORSUCH, M. D.,
Office, 215 Summit St.

We will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

EL VERANO ITEMS.

(From Our Special Correspondent.)

Mrs. Mary Dillon of Santa Rosa visited here last Tuesday and was the guest of Mrs. M. F. Mullen.

Ye grangers of this portion of the valley have lately been receiving large consignments of fruit and shade trees.

Old Boreas has been cavorting down this way for a few days exercising a rather enervating influence over everybody.

Photographer Warren has gone to Napa to make pictures of some of the beautiful scenery and residences in which Napa Valley abounds.

Miss Carrie A. Garrison left us Sunday morning for the Capital City, where she will fill a lucrative position during the session of the Legislature.

The name of M. F. Mullen, our station agent, has been announced among the Washington specials as Postmaster at this burg to succeed the present incumbent, T. B. Holmes, who has resigned that position.

The popular young road master of this district, Jack Kearney, is at present at work with a large gang of men treating the public highways north of here to a good coat of gravel and no dust. There are no flies on Jack.

The smiling face of Conductor Dolan of the Southern Pacific system again greets the eye of the traveling public. Billy has fully recovered from his late seige of sickness and is now plying the "punch" as nimbly as ever.

Owners of cattle in Sonoma who are in the habit of letting their stock run loose, minus a herder, had better look a "little out" as one of our citizens has appointed himself poundmaster and has just fenced in a three-acre lot for pound purposes. This man is a rustler and will attend strictly to business.

Henry Eiben, a thrifty and prosperous grocer out by the old Mission Dolores in San Francisco pays this locality a visit almost every Sunday. Henry has so far succeeded in preserving his "single blessedness," but unless all signs fail he is soon liable to fall a victim to the rosy cheeks and the entrancing glances of one of the lovely daughters of the Valley of the Moon.

Martin Muldry, he of the excelsior sample rooms of your city, paid us a pleasant visit Tuesday. We hope that brother Muldry has succeeded in securing a location here for a branch of his business as it is a very wearisome task indeed for the average El Veranoite, with the mercury gamboling at 80 degrees in the shade, to be forced to ride on "shank's mare" to Sonoma for a refreshing drink of ice water or a cooling quaff of sarsaparilla.

Quite a crowd of mirth-loving young people assembled at the Garrison Hotel last Saturday evening and up to 12 o'clock the time was charmingly passed in dancing. Music was rendered on the piano by Misses Loretta Redmond and Grace Johnson. Billy Garrison, arrayed in an immaculate white vest and necktie and steel pen coat, acted as floor manager. Each individual present seemed to act in concert to make the party, what it was, a most enjoyable one.

A large consignment of bone meal to be used as a fertilizer by a farmer has arrived at our depot. It is of a very redolent nature and can be scented one mile off. The farmer will confer a favor on this community by removing this article and make it disappear under the soil of his ranch at once. Adios.

West Glen Ellen was serenaded last Sunday evening. The music consisted of two coal oil cans leading the march.

EBERFELD.

Glen Ellen, Jan. 20, 1891.

Many years practice have given C. A. Snow & Co., solicitors of patents at Washington, D. C., unsurpassed success in obtaining patents for all classes of invention. They make a specialty of rejected cases, and have secured allowance of many patents that had been previously rejected. Their advertisement in another column will be of interest to inventors, patentees, manufacturers and all who have to do with patents.

The following young Sonoma ladies received first grade certificates at the recent teachers' examination held in Santa Rosa: Miss Grace Shaw, Miss Mary Burke and Miss Florence Campbell.

Mrs. J. S. Enos, formerly of Grand View and now a resident of San Francisco, arrived at Agua Caliente on Monday evening and will remain a few days the guest of Mrs. M. C. Wattress.

The Rev. Dr. Reid of Victoria, B. C., father of Rev. David H. Reid, pastor of the Congregational church, expects to visit Sonoma shortly. During his stay in Sonoma he will probably occupy the pulpit of the church one Sunday.

Shubrick Norris, who is now residing in Oakland, visited his farm near this plac last Sunday. He was warmly welcomed by his many Sonoma friends, who have greatly missed his genial countenance since his departure for Oakland several weeks ago.

Heydt & Cousins, harness makers of this place have closed out their business and have left for Grant's, Oregon, where they will resume business. Mrs. Heydt and family will shortly leave for the same place. Louis Heydt will represent his mother's interest in the firm.

Henry Rubke had very bad luck this week. His team, which was hitched to a plow, ran away breaking the leg of a valuable horse which had to be killed.

SONOMA INDEX - TRIBUNE.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 31, 1891.

Sarah Bernhardt and Her Pins.

Her costumes, as usual, are splendid, but some alarm is expressed in couturiere establishments at the total absence of any cutting out, or fabrication, lest ladies should take a fancy to such primitive styles of apparel. Several yards of material swathed round the figure and fastened with pins—without the intervention of a needle anywhere! A chorus of protesting voices declare that "cette Sarah" must be mad. On the other hand, husbands and fathers admire and approve the economical innovation, with the idea of suppressing couturiere's bills.

But even supposing the very improbable adoption of such a simplified mode of attire, would not the couturieres be necessarily called in to arrange the pins and folds? What average woman could manage to coil yards and yards of clinging material round her figure with any graceful result? What delicious sketches of middle aged, stout matrons in classical attire Leech would have drawn had he lived to hear of such things!

It is said that in the days of the first Napoleon the painter Isabey would never allow his wife to wear a ball dress like others, but himself pinned around her folds of gauze, intermingled with flowers, so as to produce a charming though peculiar effect. He was an artist, and might be allowed some privileges. We doubt, however, the success of modern inartistic husbands if required to dress their wives with yards of gauze or china crape and a paper of pins.—Murray's Magazine.

A Woman's Ingenuity.

Nobody has ever questioned the ingenuity of women in general, and the happy faculty possessed by some women in particular, to turn everything to account. A funny little revelation has just been made of how one pretty woman utilized a candy bag. Last Christmas a charming, popular and delightful man, whom we will call Gen. X, gave a lady a little Christmas souvenir of a bag of candy. The bag was the daintiest little conceit possible, fashioned like the old time reticule of our grandmothers. It was made of a piece of splendid cloth of gold, in which were woven threads of brilliant scarlet. It was filled with the most delicious bon bons imaginable, and of these madam had no difficulty of disposing, but she was frantic to utilize the bag itself.

Finally a happy thought occurred to her. Dainty little muffs were all the rage this winter, so madam's candy bag was turned into one, and with a beautiful little jetted bird with outspread wings, a scrap of gold, and scarlet cord and some little frills of black satin, the daintiest muff imaginable was made for madam's pretty hands. It matches her smartest visiting gown, and is so chic and so immensely pretty and novel that you would vow it was a masterpiece from Virot.—New York Press.

The Custom of Announcing.

Some New York women will not adopt the custom, now almost universal, of having guests announced. All first class caterers send out "callers" along with door openers and maids for the cloak rooms, but not all hostesses accept their services. "It's too much like Washington and official crushes," said one frequent entertainer the other day. "It's English, too, I know," she went on, "but I like to pay my guests the compliment of recalling them without having my memory stimulated by a servant."

"That's all very well," said her companion, also often a hostess, "but in my case, without their aid, I should pay many of my very good friends the poor compliment of inability to say their names at all. I really couldn't get through an 'at home' creditably if deprived of this assistance. I find great difficulty in making names fit faces, and in the constantly arriving throng I should get hopelessly confused if things were not all arranged for me."—Her Point of View in New York Times.

An Empress Had Hysterics.

There was a very painful scene when the Empress of Austria visited the royal palace at Naples the other day. She walked up and down the rooms, which she had last seen thirty years ago, when her sister was Queen of Naples, evidently quite overcome by her recollections, and presently went into a corner to look at a picture which had attracted her attention, and which to the immense dismay of her suite, turned out to be a portrait of the Crown Prince Rudolph, whose tragic death has quite upset his mother's mind, his name being never mentioned in her presence. The empress had a violent fit of hysterics on suddenly seeing her son's picture, and presently left the palace to return to her yacht in a state of distraction, crying, sobbing and ejaculating in a most lamentable manner.—London World.

German Favors.

Very costly souvenirs are no longer in favor among many society people. At a recent "german" given in this city by a woman who has quantities of money and more taste, the favors were nearly all simple, useful little things that she had made by the more advanced pupils of a mission school in which she is much interested. Judgment and ingenuity were shown in the selection of the materials and in their workmanship. The dainty little work baskets fitted up with useful articles, the prettily finished handkerchiefs of delicate silk intended to be used in jewel cases, and the numerous odds and ends, each intended to serve some practical purpose, excited genuine surprise and admiration among her guests.—Epoch.

Imperial Interest in Koch.

The Empress Frederick, who has always devoted much time and attention to the study of all matters concerning health, is now deeply interested in Dr. Koch's discovery and all that results from it. She has not only taken the opportunity of informing herself on the subject from Dr. Koch himself, but she visits in succession the hospitals where his method of cure is practiced, has the processes explained to her, and observes with great attention the patients who are being treated.—London World.
